THE FLEXIBILITY STORY

When it comes to selecting school furniture, the experts agree: flexibility is a necessity.

With mobile furniture like Illusions™ installation is simple. And you can easily configure the classroom to meet your specific needs.

1st semester

In fact, results of a recent survey in USA TODAY on school design priorities among educators found that “flexible classrooms” were considered essential by 88% of the respondents, ranking second only to “safety/security.”

Plus, consider what The U.S. Department of Education writes in its Design Principles manual, “Allow for flexibility and adaptability to changing needs. The design of learning environments needs to accommodate diversity and local flexibility. They cannot afford to lock in too firmly on any permanent notion of facility or space...”

2nd semester

As those needs change—and you know they will—you can quickly reconfigure the classroom to accommodate the new demands perfectly.

With Illusions Mobile Case Goods™ you get the flexibility you need without giving up the attractiveness and style of furniture that looks built-in.

3rd semester

Fleetwood Illusions Mobile Case Goods™ feature sturdy, easy-rolling casters recessed behind functional skirting that extends nearly to the floor. The result is total flexibility with the built-in look.
